The role of the training team leader is, at its simplest, to help the training team make happy, effective evangelists! The team offer training to evangelists to help prepare them to become Commissioned Evangelists, ideally deployable in one of our growing number of Centres of Mission. The role will involve leading the team in a context of change, in which COVID is only a backdrop. As a team leader, we are looking for someone with experience of leading and managing staff, who is approachable and able to build strong, supportive relationships.

The training includes teaching Level 4 and 5 modules which all have an emphasis on mission within a pioneering context. We are looking for someone with substantial teaching experience, who is excellent at communication and creative in their thinking and teaching methods.
